Regarding cargo Operation of vessel with crew from the Stevedores and the vessel crew in the hold.

It is compulsory to use safety helmet, safety shoes and visibility clothing within the harbor area. For your own safety it is forbidden to enter the cranes working area without crane driver's approval.

It is important that the whole crew to receive this information.

At the end of the cargo operation in each hold the Stevedores put on board Bobcat and staff for shuffling (if needed) and the ship's crew sweeps the cargo hold.

An assessment will be made in consultation between the foreman and crane driver for each occasion;

- if the cargo operation can proceed with signalman while the ship's crew sweeps the cargo hold.
- if the cargo operation should be interrupted until the ship's crew has finished cleaning cargo hold no 1 (if 2 or more holds)
- if the ship's crew should only be allowed to enter the cargo hold after completion of cargo operation.

The person in charge on board makes contact with the crane driver before the ship's crew enters the cargo hold for work.

If the ship's crew doesn't follow these instructions, the crane driver will stop the cargo operation.
